

Relief Cook – On call/Part-time

Accepting applications until position filled.

Wulaawsuwiikaan Healing Lodge provides day and residential programs to aid in the recovery of important Indigenous family values and structures and thereby strives to contribute to the movement toward more loving and supporting family units, resilient Clan structures and peaceful communities. Our programs are designed with the belief that healing is a natural part of one's life path and all creation, through natural and spiritual law, moves us toward our highest spiritual, emotional, mental and physical potential. In its aim to continue the healing process for all indigenous people, the Lodge incorporates traditional beliefs, values, and culture-based practices to provide wellness and healing to individuals and families throughout Southwestern Ontario.

Wulaawsuwiikaan is currently seeking an innovative and dynamic Relief Cook to join our team. As a Relief Cook, there will be a strong expectation that you can fulfill the role of a positive, healthy role model who can be relied upon by both our qualifying clients and fellow staff members. It is vital that all staff can provide support and understanding to the residents who have been impacted by family violence, abuse and intergenerational trauma. Staff must be aware of their own personal boundaries and limitations to effectively model healthy interactions with residents and co-workers. Staff are expected to possess an understanding of the impacts of violence on individuals and will be expected to utilize their training and skills to provide compassion, support and understanding to all clients.
